Nutrition During Your First Month:

Here at Gen's Gym, we are focused on getting you SUSTAINABLE results...in order to do that, we are going to take things slow as we get to know each other. You may be confused why you don't log in for week one and see a meal plan of chicken and broccoli in your account...and the reason why is those types of programs just don't work. After all, that's why you're here, aren't you? SO the goal over these next few weeks is to gauge your current eating habits, nutrition knowledge, and typical intake so we can ease you in to a lifelong transition of balanced, guilt free eating.

HERE IS WHAT YOUR FIRST 4 WEEKS WILL LOOK LIKE NUTRITION-WISE:

Prep Week (now - your official "start date"): Send pictures of all food via Gen's Gym training app. I want you to eat what you would NORMALLY EAT! I want to get to know you. Your brain. And your lifestyle. So if you act on your "best behavior" and only send me pictures of salads, I won't actually gain any insight into your life. If you typically go out to eat, go. Take pictures. If you typically eat frozen pizza, do it. Take pictures. Show me what your REAL life looks like so I can help you transition to your GOAL life. If you forget to take a picture, send a description of what you ate, how much, and how full you felt after.

Week 1: After submitting 4 full days of food photos, you will receive feedback from your coach reviewing your nutrition and making a few suggestions and recommendations on how to improve your food habits this week! Continue to send pictures of all food, and now the goal is to eat a little better based on your coach's suggestions.

Mid Week 1/Week 2: Once your coach has enough data on your nutrition, they will advise you to begin to track your food using the Gen's Gym App. During this time, your coach will send you your daily calorie/macro goal to follow daily. HOWEVER the goal is not to hit these calories yet. The goal is to still eat as you intuitively would, so we can see how close or far off from the ideal calories are. On average, we notice most clients are anywhere from 200-600 calories above or below the recommended amount (which is why you are most likely maintaining or gaining weight). So if that is your experience, that's normal! When tracking your food, it is important to weigh and measure everything through a food scale. I like this one from Amazon. Please please please do not eyeball your food. Your numbers will be way off and the data will not be helpful for us to serve you.

Week 3 + 4: Start hitting your calories! Now that you've built a foundation, we can start actually hitting your calories. No need to focus on macros yet, as we will begin tracking macros in your second month. We have a huge bank of recipes within the modules for you to view!
